Fire Department Kept Busy: Dry Weather Is The Cause

CHIEF ISSUES

WARNING AND ASKS CAUTION

Half Dozen Fires Here; Big Blaze in Rock Falls Last Night

Fire Chief Coffey today issued a warning to all citizens to exercise every precaution in the burning of rubbish and weeds at this time when everything is so dry, as a preventive measure against heavy fire losses. At noon today the fire department had been called out to answer six alarms since late yesterday afternoon.

The first call was received about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon when the department was called to the F. X. Newcomer farm in South Dixon where a spark of unknown origin threatened to wipe out every building on the place. The farm is tenanted by John Fennell. The fire started at the base of a fence post and fanned by the dry hot wind, was whipped into a flame before it could be extinguished. The fire was swept to a small straw stack and a large hay stack which burned quickly. The flames communicated to a machine shed, chicken house and a summer kitchen which together with their contents were destroyed. The prompt arrival of the fire department and the use of chemicals saved the residence and large barn. Neighbors who were summoned, assisted in removing the greater part of the household effects. The damage was estimated at about $3,000 which is partially covered by insurance.

Need of Community Truck.

This farm fire again emphasized the need of a community fire truck, a campaign to purchase which is now under way, and which according to Chief Coffey is nearly completed. Many farmers and farm-owners have contributed toward the fund to purchase the truck, which will be maintained without further expense at the Dixon fire station, and which will answer calls to subscribers without charge. Charges of $75 for the truck and $50 per hour will be made against non-subscribers who call the truck. It was stated today that any one interested in this project can obtain full information by calling Clarence Heckman at phone 225, or at the Dixon fire department.

Other Alarms.

At 6:20 last evening, the department was summoned to the George Covert residence, 1135 Johnson street where a Hudson sedan had caught fire, supposedly from crossed wiring. The car was badly damaged before the flames were extinguished.

At 8 o'clock last evening, the department was called to North Dement and Bradshaw street where they extinguished a grass fire which had been started by a careless neighbor.

At 11 o'clock, the department made another run to the rear of the Dixon Fruit company's warehouse on Crawford avenue, where a rubbish fire was extinguished.

A grass and weed fire on the bank west of the Dixon public hospital called out the department again this morning at 9:15.

Cigarette Started Blaze.

A cigarette stub which was thrown on an oil-soaked canvas which was used to cover a large pile of sacked cement at the new Shell filling station at Third street and Galena avenue sent flames leaping 20 feet into the air at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Workmen extinguished the flames with chemicals, the tarpaulin being destroyed and several of the sacks of cement having been damaged when the covering was burned off. It was necessary to re-sack a great deal of the cement, and the services of the fire department were not required.

Bad Fire in Rock Falls.

A large frame warehouse owned by the Wilburn Forge & Saw Co., of Rock Falls, and occupied as a storage place by S. E. Wheelock, well known furniture dealer of that city was completely destroyed by fire of unknown origin shortly before midnight, the total loss being estimated at $80,000, $60,000 on the building and $40,000 completed plow shares of the Wilburn Co., and $20,000 sustained by Mr. Wheelock on a stock of rugs and furniture. A $6,000 motor hearse and a $2,000 truck. The latter's loss is covered by insurance while the Wilburn Company is only partially protected.

The flames burned off telephone and electric light wires, plunging the city in darkness. The Sterling fire department was called upon for help sending a summer truck to the assistance of the Rock Falls firemen.

Rogers Undecided Where To Make Race

Beverly Hills, Cal., April 11—(UP)—Will Rogers, famous humorist, said today that he is unable to decide whether to run for Governor in California, Oklahoma or Nevada.

Informed that "a bunch" of California Democrats had banded together to urge him to enter the gubernatorial race, Will inquired: "How many Democrats make a bunch?"

"Two," he was told. "I'm awful glad it was the Democrats who picked me," Rogers said, "because I sure would be exclusive. I'm sure to be nominated. All the Republicans are running. However, I was sort of figuring on running in Oklahoma, and there's Nevada to be considered."

ANOTHER WAVE OF HEAT FELT OVER MIDWEST

Little Indication For Rain Weather Bureau Declares

Chicago, April 11—(UP)—Another wave of hot weather pressed down over the middle west today despite cooling showers that broke the summer spell overnight.

At noon the mercury stood about 80 in virtually every weather bureau point in the area and forecasters said a top of 90 would be reached again today.

Farmers in the southwest searched the skies in vain for signs of rain to relieve the drought that is costing them $1,000,000 a day.

Weather men offered them no relief although they predicted tomorrow will be somewhat cooler.

Bureaus in Des Moines, St. Louis and Kansas City forecast a top mark of 90 before night. Denver reported a maximum of 70 after cooling showers. Oklahoma was not so warm but badly needed rain was not in sight.

The mercury stood at 86 in Chicago at noon and was well on its way to 90, the weather man said.

To Hold Leviathan For U. S. Delegates

London, April 11—(AP)—The United States Lines today offered to adopt the almost unprecedented measure of holding the great liner Leviathan 24 hours beyond her scheduled sailing date, April 22, for the American delegation to the London naval conference.

Secretary Stimson greatly desires not only to sign the naval treaty here in London but also to catch this boat home.

In order to make more certain that he might not miss the boat, Secretary Stimson inquired whether the United States Lines would be willing to defer sailing 48 hours if necessary and this was being considered.

Detroit Man Shot By Unknown Enemy

Detroit, April 11—(UP)—Shot down by an unknown assailant while sitting with friends, Luigi Verardo died today.

Verardo was visiting Mrs. Rose Rizzolo, who is separated from her husband, when the shooting occurred. In the room were several other friends when a bullet crashed through a window and struck Verardo in the chest. The assailant apparently stood on a stump outside the window as he fired, police said.

PARTIAL ECLIPSE OF MOON TO BE VISIBLE TOMORROW SHORTLY BEFORE THE MIDNIGHT HOUR

Cambridge, Mass., April 11—(AP)—When the moon goes under partial eclipse about midnight tomorrow, one Harvard astronomer will be watching through ordinary field glass. This scientist, Dr. Willard J. Fisher, will time to a fraction of a minute the appearance of a slight haze on the edge of the moon. He will time also the ending which comes after the appearance and disappearance of the earth's black shadow.

TRAIN HITS BUS: MANY KILLED

SEN. JOHNSON WILL NOT BE ON COMMITTEE

Declines To Serve In Election Expenditures Probe

Washington, April 11—(AP)—Senator Johnson, Republican, California, today asked Vice President Curtis to relieve him of the chairmanship of the newly-appointed committee to investigate expenditures of Senatorial candidates in this year's elections.

In a letter to the Vice President the California Senator said "my time is so wholly occupied with my duties, and particularly those which have come to me as chairman of the Commerce committee of the Senate that it is utterly impossible for me to undertake additional tasks."

The decision of Senator Johnson left the chairmanship of the newly created committee vacant and the Vice President immediately set himself to the task of filling it.

This means some delay in putting under way the inquiry which Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, has urged and which the Senate yesterday ordered.

Suggestions already have been made that the investigation be directed to the Illinois primary of last Tuesday, when Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick defeated Senator Deenre for the Republican Senatorial nomination, and to the forthcoming primaries in Pennsylvania and Nebraska.

In his letter Senator Johnson said he regarded the post as exceedingly important, the chairmanship of which must be a full time job. My situation is such that I could not perform the duties of the post as I believe they should be performed, and as I know you would wish them done."

Bass Confesses His Part In Big Plot

Bentonville, Ark., April 11—(AP)—Dr. Andrew J. Bass, wealthy retired dentist of Columbia, Mo., charged with murder in connection with the killing of William Robert Pearson also of Columbia, signed a confession today, admitting his part in a plot to collect $200,000 life insurance taken out by Pearson in the name of William Flota. He did not implicate himself in the actual killing of Pearson, found slain near here two weeks ago. The sheriff quoted Bass as saying he also at one time hired St. Louis gangsters to kill a man named Dorsey, an insurance official of Indianapolis, in a $100,000 insurance swindle plot, which failed.

Negro Slayer Died In Electric Chair

Chicago, April 11—(AP)—Aaron Woodward, a Negro, was electrocuted early today in the Cook county jail for the murder in a holdup last summer of Patrolman Jerry O'Connell.

For the first time in this state, a glass partition was used to separate the electric chair from the rest of the death chamber and the slayer's last words were inaudible to witnesses.

EMMERSON TO CALL SPECIAL SESSION OF ASSEMBLY SOON TO REVISE TAXING SYSTEM

Will Meet Early Next Month Governor's Friends Say

Springfield, Ill., April 11—(AP)—A special session of 55th General Assembly of Illinois to revise the antiquated taxing system of the state will be called for the early part of May, persons close to Governor Louis L. Emmerson said today.

Governor Emmerson is expected to issue the call for the special meeting of the legislators shortly after the close of the Democratic and Republican state conventions here next Friday. The session probably will be called for the first or second week of May.

Deliberations of the Assembly will be confined to the consideration of a Constitutional amendment to permit the taxing machinery of Illinois to reach intangible property and take some of the tax burden off real estate owners.

In this work, the legislature will have the aid of the State Tax Commission which has recently completed its annual report and survey of tax conditions in Illinois. The report of the special Revenue Commission, appointed some time ago by Governor Emmerson, probably will be available for the reference of the Assembly by the time the session convenes.

Governor Emmerson has indicated that he believes a revision of the entire revenue structure of the state is necessary to cure existing taxation evils. His program for tax reform includes a Constitutional amendment to make intangible wealth pay its fair share of tax and revision of tax administration in the interests of efficiency and uniformity.

THUGS SHOT WAY TO FREEDOM IN BANK ROBBERY

Bystander Killed Early Today In Piqua, O., Bank Holdup

Piqua, Ohio, April 11—(AP)—Seven bank robbers armed with machine guns and repeating rifles killed one man and wounded two others in a running gun battle through city streets today after they had robbed the Citizens National Bank & Trust Company of approximately $10,000 in currency.

Henry Matthews, 40, married, proprietor of a delicatessen store, was wounded fatally, and Ray Alexander, manager of a loan company, was shot through the hip and wounded seriously. An unidentified man was shot through the leg when the bandits turned onto the Dixie Highway.

While four of the robbers were looting the cages in the bank, an employee stepped on a burglar alarm and aroused the city. Alexander opened fire on the robbers as they left the bank. More than 100 rounds of shots were fired through the loan company windows.

Matthews was standing in front of his store when the robbers opened fire. A bullet struck him in the breast and he died a few minutes after entering a hospital.

Schuyler, Neb., April 11—(AP)—Four bandits held up the banking house of F. Foida here today, slugged Jay Foida, one of the employees, and escaped with $5,500 in currency.

Owner Of Station KTNT Fired Upon

Muscatine, Ia., April 11—(AP)—Police at all towns in Iowa and Illinois along the Mississippi river today were on the lookout for three men who fired upon Herman Baker, operator of radio station KTNT, shortly after he signed off at 1 A. M. this morning.

Muscatine police broadcast the lookout warning after Baker reported the attack, which was verified by C. E. White keeper of the toll bridge who saw the shooting from his shanty less than a hundred feet from the scene.

Baker and Harry Hoxey of Gerard, Ill., were having a conference in an upstairs room from which Baker had been broadcasting by remote control. Hoxey told police he jumped to the window on hearing shots and fired at three men who he could dimly see on the ground below, wounding one of the men. TRANSPORT WAS FORCED TO HIT BRIDGE RAILING

Unknown Driver Cause Of Traffic Blockade In Night

A large motor transport trailer used in hauling automobiles from the Chevrolet assembly plant at Janesville, Wis., was badly damaged this morning at 3 o'clock on the Grand Detour bridge, when three young men riding in an old car forced the driver of the transport against the side of the bridge. A new truck on the trailer was almost thrown over the side of the bridge into Rock river. Traffic was blocked for almost two hours until two other transports from Davenport arrived and transferred the cargo.

The transport owned by Robert Cross of Ashton, has just driven onto the north end of the bridge when an old car going north on Route 2 forced the driver of the heavy truck into the steel girders of the side of the bridge. The cab of the truck on the trailer was badly damaged and one fender almost torn away. Two of the heavy tires on the transport exploded. State Highway Officer Kenneth Church was called and superintended the traffic until 5 o'clock this morning when the wreckage was cleared from the bridge. The car in which the trio were riding was undamaged and did not stop. The driver of the transport escaped without injury.

CURTAILMENT ESSENTIAL IN REDUCING TAX

Mothers' Pension And T. B. Sanatorium Required By Law

The $33,000, for the past few years expended by Lee Co. in township road graveling program, will not be appropriated from the Lee County Treasury this year. By action of the Board of Supervisors in the final session of their organization meeting yesterday afternoon the annual road graveling program was the first item to come under the curtailment program to prevent Lee county from entering the ranks of many other counties in Illinois which are "broke."

The graveling program was abandoned and with it will be cut many of lesser details, it was hinted. A plan to purchase snow plows with which to keep the system of patrolled roads open during the severe winter months, was another project to pass to the retired list. Heavy grading and road construction projects which were outlined for the summer program, will not be undertaken and only limited operations will come under the road and bridge committee's department this season, namely, the minimum patrolling of the county system of highways with no reconstruction or new work of any kind being undertaken.

Curb All Expenses.

When the board considered the appropriation of a sum for the continuation of the gravel system, whereby the county and townships appropriate equal sums for this purpose, it was reported that it would be necessary to reduce the sums from $15,000 to $10,000. This brought forth a discussion and the ultimate action of the entire board in the curbing of all expenses. Chairman Brucker of the road and bridge committee explained that it had been planned to reduce the appropriation for the gravel fund from $33,000 to $22,000, but that he had been informed that there were not sufficient funds in the County Treasury to care for the appropriation and the work necessarily would be held up as he was strongly opposed to placing the county in debt in spite of the condition of the roads of the county. In conclusion he asked that County Treasurer Dorrance Thompson make a statement to the board.

Finances Explained.

"The finances of Lee county at present are very good," the Treasurer told the board members, "but this depends on whether or not we are able to collect the taxes that have already been levied. You might be interested in knowing that Lee county at present has about 19 patients in tuberculosis sanatoriums in various parts of the state and this number is increasing every year. The mothers' pension is another item that is rapidly increasing in Lee county."

"The Treasurer's office has received no refund from the state on the Mothers' pension in spite of the fact that two notices have been forwarded the State Auditor. Conditions in the Chicago area may be responsible for the holding up of Lee county's share at Springfield as well as with the other counties."

"When the April bills are to be paid out of the tuberculosis sanatorium fund the fund appropriated for this purpose will be more than exhausted. Approximately $15,000 is collected annually for this purpose but this sum is not sufficient to meet the claims."

Cows vs. Children.

"The state of Illinois requires the County to take care of an old cow if it is found to be tubercular, but does not require the care of a child so infected. This is the state's attitude. There are more patients in tuberculosis sanatoriums today than ever before. The number is increasing each year with no additional tax or provision to care for them. Formerly the number did not exceed 10 to 12 in number and today it has risen a third greater."

"Of the $15,000 appropriated for this purpose last September, only about $1,800 remains with which to carry on the work for the next six months, and I doubt if those in charge of the fund are aware of this fact. If the appropriation is insufficient, what is to be done with less than $2,000 remaining to carry on?"

THE DOWNEY WOODPECKER
Garrett Newkirk

THE Downey is a drummer boy, his drum a hollow tree limb. If people listen or do not, it's all the same to him. He plays a Chinese Melody, and plays it with a will. Without another drumstick but just his little bill.

And he isn't playing all for fun, nor just to have a lark. He's after every kind of bug or worm within the bark. Or, if there is a codling moth, he'll get him without fail. While holding firmly to the tree with all his toes and tail.

He is fond of every insect, and every insect egg. He works for everything he gets, and never has to beg. From weather either cold or hot he never runs away; So when you find him present, you may hope that he will stay.

Wee Patricia Must Indeed Be a Prodigy

Cedar Rapids, April 11—(AP)—Wee fingers of 5-year-old Patricia Anne Samson, moving thoughtfully across piano keys, have produced compositions which critics say forecast for her a brilliant future. Already she has a half dozen works to her credit.

Although given no formal study by her father, G. W. Samson, Jr., private piano teacher and instructor of organ at Iowa State Teachers College, Patricia Anne has been granted full sway to creative impulse.

A waltz, "Peter Pan" is the favorite not only of Patricia Anne but of those who have heard her play it. Nearly half her life, the child has clamored onto her piano bench as often as her parents allowed. Often, they she has startled them by playing pieces she has heard her father's pupils labor with.

Among these are "The Fountain" by Bohm, "Curious Story" by Heller, "The Infant Jesus," by Yon and "Melody in B" by Paderewski. "Bye, Baby Bye," she sang the morning after the first heard a visitor at the Samson home sing it. Other times, her parents say, she has astonished them by playing pieces they had sung or played while she supposedly was asleep.

Now the Santells Agree to Disagree

Los Angeles, April 11—(AP)—Mrs. Ruth Santell obtained a divorce from Al Santell, motion picture director, at the conclusion yesterday of her suit charging cruelty and incompatibility.

Mrs. Santell, frequently weeping, testified she and her husband had separated and been reconciled 23 times.

A property settlement of $12,500 and $500 a month alimony, was approved by the court. The couple married five years ago.

Grand Army Day Observed by W. R. C. Comrades and Friends

The Dixon Woman's Relief Corps, No. 218, Auxiliary to the Grand Army of the Republic, entertained last evening in G. A. R. hall, W. R. C. members, their families and members of the Grand Army Post, No. 299, their families and a few friends, in honor of Grand Army Day. At 6:30 a very delicious supper was served to the large number in attendance, the tables being most attractive with bouquets of pink and white carnations and pussy willows. Old Glory was evident, as always in G. A. R. hall. The comrades present seemed to enjoy the occasion very much, as did all the other guests.

During the serving of the supper, after grace was said, part of the Vagabond Orchestra, led by Eugene Lebre, who plays the cornet, with Miss Jane Bradford at the piano, and George Lebre the drums, gave several peppy selections, and Eugene Lebre gave a cornet solo. The Pagan Love Song, which was well received and heartily applauded. This versatile young man then sang "Cheer Up, a most enjoyable solo. His voice is clear and sweet and a bright future in music seems to be assured for him. He was accompanied by Miss Bradford and George Lebre. Mrs. Maude Hobbs, president of the Corps, then announced that Harry Jones would render a solo, "The Trail to Long Ago." Mr. Jones was ably accompanied at the piano by Mr. Fahrney. Mr. Jones' singing certainly was a treat; he has a sweet, strong voice and sings with expression and clear enunciation. He was heartily applauded and responded with "Old Black Joe." This number was also greatly enjoyed. An intermission followed as supper was finished and the tables cleared. Then the remainder of the program was given, with Mrs. Albertine McKenney giving two readings, the first "A Tribute to the Ladies," which was followed by "When Father Was a Boy." Both selections were delightfully presented and much enjoyed as the great applause gave evidence. Then Janice Brandt gave an athletic dance, which was most entertaining, accompanied at the piano by Miss Helen Conrad.

Comrade Charles Johnson, then made a short and impressive address on the significance of the day, Grand Army Day, and spoke of the pleasure it gave the comrades to be so honored, and of all the great blessings which are showered upon all of us today. The ranks of the G. A. R. are sadly thinned, but the remnants of the gallant hosts of Grant, Sherman and Logan, are just as full of the old patriotism and fire as they were in the days of their youth. They stand for things worth while in America, and should be accorded the honor and appreciation which is due them today, from young and old alike. The W. R. C. does much to keep this spirit of appreciation active.

The pleasant evening was concluded by the singing of "God Be With You Till We Meet Again."

Much credit is deserved by all who assisted in making the evening the enjoyable success it was. Mrs. Mail, chairman of the executive committee and her co-workers deserve special credit. The W. R. C. will meet Monday afternoon in G. A. R. hall.

Huntington-Durban; Love Levels All Stations and Lives

London, April 11—(AP)—Happy as the bride of a 21-year-old British newsboy, Vivienne Huntington, 27-year-old New York heiress, will leave tomorrow with her husband, Alfred Cecil Durban, on the liner Montrose for Toronto, where they hope to make their home.

Mrs. Durban is the daughter of the late Charles Pratt Huntington, architect of New York. The groom, until his marriage March 13, earned his living selling newspapers outside Folsom station. His father drives a butcher's cart.

Their marriage was kept secret and revealed only with their arrangements to sail for the Dominion. The bride's mother was in Switzerland at the time and neither she nor the groom's people knew of the wedding until after the two had been made man and wife.

They went to Brighton on a short honeymoon after their wedding, and then returned to palatial Embury Manor, Cheriton, where the bride and her mother have lived for 18 months. The newlyweds made themselves at home there and have remained since.

The bride told her own story of the wedding today. She said she had money, although less than she expected, and that they would go to Toronto where her husband hoped to get a post in the engineering business.

"I had always said I would never marry a man beneath my station," she said, "but you see what love does. We walked out together very secretly many times, enjoying dodging people who were likely to recognize us. Then he told me he would like to marry me."

"No other man in the world could have made me happier. He is most adorable, a perfect darling."

Archer Milton Huntington, New York author, cousin of Vivienne Maud Huntington, is one of the richest men in the United States, his fortune being based on an inheritance of $30,000,000 from his mother, the widow of Collis P. Huntington, California railroad builder.

We're Agin' Em Too, If She Painted Them Red

Chicago, April 11—(UP)—Adam and Eve, turned out of the Garden of Eden in the dawn of time, are likely to be turned out of the Illinois Woman's Athletic Club and with less ceremony.

This Adam and Eve are cooperated (or maybe they're red, there's a difference of opinion) and hang on the walls of the Athletic Club in an exhibit of paintings by Miss Valentine Vogel, St. Louis artist with modernistic tendencies.

The redskin Adam and Eve in Miss Vogel's much discussed painting have tossed all conventions and fig leaves to the winds and stand gazing out over a green sea—Eve facing this way and Adam the other.

Miss Vogel's reason for painting the first folks red and the sea green was "because I merely happen to like red figures against a green sky," she said. "And it's the least obscene picture I've ever painted."

Members of the Athletic Club, however, expressed various opinions over teacups and threaten to do something about it.

"That picture is unfit for public view," Mrs. Lydia Huyck, prominent member of the exclusive club, thinks. "It should never be hung in the same room with innocent subjects" commented Mrs. Ada Witmer, another club leader.

Baroness Violet Wenner, however, came to the defense of Miss Vogel. "While Eve's nose is sort of cut off and Adam looks like a prizefighter, I don't think there is anything obscene about the picture," she said. "Anyway we don't know how Adam and Eve looked so why criticize," said another defender.

Mrs. Charles Peterson, sponsor of the exhibit, has made no decision.

The WOMAN'S DAY-By ALLENE SUMMER

This country has sent out many ambassadors of good will but I doubt if any of them can produce more far-reaching results than Dr. S. Josephine Baker, whose activities are to be extended to faraway China.

It would be impossible to estimate the good Dr. Baker has accomplished in her own country. Her name is synonymous with child welfare and social service.

Or is it possible to estimate what far-reaching results her teachings may have in a country of 500,000,000 people where little slant-eyed babies are brought up on traditions and according to the laws laid down by honorable great, great, great grandmothers?

A newly organized China Child Welfare Association plans to spread Dr. Baker's teachings to the school-children of 15 Chinese cities, as the first steps in promoting a child welfare program founded upon scientific data.

The course includes 30 lessons for girls between 12 and 14 years of age, instructing them in the care of themselves and their younger sisters and brothers. These have been prepared by Dr. Baker, and translated into Chinese by the alumnae of Ginning College and Nanking, and are given in schools by the Chinese Minister of Education.

A FERTILE FIELD
"There are literally millions of children in China today who need help," said Mrs. John Allan Dougherty, of Washington, who has just returned from a trip to China to establish the working program and start the machinery for promoting scientific welfare work there.

"The important thing is to establish modern, up-to-date clinics in the poorer districts of all the cities and a model demonstration center in Nanking. Chinese doctors and nurses will manage these clinics, following the program outlined by Dr. Baker."

The Chinese government has operated to the extent of presenting the new association 40 mow, or several acres of land, outside the wall of Nanking for a site for the center which will be built as soon as funds are available.

China can teach us much about art, philosophy and poetry, but certainly we can teach her much about sanitation, hygiene and baby care. We are proud to be represented by Dr. Baker.

FASHION HINTS—

TEA SANDWICHES—Watercress and devilled ham make delicious sandwiches for tea time, between thin slice of white and one of whole wheat bread.

WHITE HATS—To clean white felt hats or white straw ones, tuck very fine sandpaper and the art gum. Do not wait until the hat becomes too grimy. Take each apart off as it comes.

SHOE LACES—It is a mistake to let your laces for your oxfords get soiled and misused. They are easily washed. To iron them stand the iron on end, hold a lace by each tip and slide it back and forth across the hot iron until it is smooth.

SPRING APRONS—Get yourself some new house frocks and bright aprons this spring. Gaudy calicoes cost little and they add zest to your day.

BABY SHARKSKIN—Navy blue calfskin purses, with panels of baby sharkskin in matching tone, are very new and very neat. One has loop on the front for decoration but no handle.

FITTED SLIPS—Princess slips are quite the accepted ones for wear under spring frocks. Some of them have wrap around skirt portions.

STRIPED UMBRELLAS—The spring skyline on rainy days will be streaked, but not necessarily with rain. The newest umbrellas are striped, in two or three colors.

THE DECLINE IN CURSING.

Signs are not altogether wanting that this is a weak and flaccid age. There is, for instance, the matter of cursing. In a recent romantic-adventure novel dealing with fightings and roisterings of the 17th century, the author tells how a certain dour Scotsman was thrown into jail for some breach of the peace. Locked in his cell, this Scotsman stood up, looked about him and began to curse.

Now the novelist takes up more than half a page telling how the prisoner cursed. He tells how he cursed his jailers, the police who had arrested him, the witnesses who had complained against him; how he cursed, methodically and in order, their ancestors, singly and collectively; how he extended his range, then, and began cursing the whole ruling of Scotland from the lowest bailiff to the high lords of Parliament; and now, at the end, he went back to the beginning, to be sure he had missed no one, and devoted a final five minutes or so to a recapitulation of all his former curses.

All in all, the novelist makes it clear that that man spent a good half hour in energetic, prayerful cursing. When he had finished, of course, he felt a good deal better, and was doubtless somewhat exhausted.

But the present, we repeat, is a supine age. Is there, in all the land today, one man who could curse steadily, and effectively, for half an hour? Not one. The most violent of army top-sergeants cannot maintain a flow of language for so much as five minutes without getting confused, repeating himself and trailing off into meaningless oburgations.

During the war there was a chief petty officer in the navy who was exceedingly profane. His flow of language was a marvel and an inspiration to his subordinates. One day, at an inspection, a lieutenant took this chief petty officer to task for some trifling error and made a particular idiot of himself in the way he called attention to the lapse. The chief petty officer, reddening, took it in silence; and when the lieutenant left the sailors who were nearby prepared to hear some rock-shivering blast of cursing that would eclipse anything they had ever heard before.

The chief petty officer drew in his breath for the great effort; then suddenly he deflated himself. His shoulders drooped wearily, and in a weak voice he remarked simply, "Ain't he foolish?"

The man simply wasn't up to it. He couldn't do the situation justice. Where a sailor of 200 years ago would have orated for five minutes, he found he had no vocabulary or training to deal with the matter.

We have declined. We aren't the men our forefathers were. We spend our energy on pointless cursing over trivialities; when the big events, that deserve real, expert, two-fisted arise, we are helpless.

THE LOTTERY WINNERS.

It is interesting to read that two Massachusetts girls who went to New York and got jobs as coffee shop waitresses are $12,000 richer because they bought tickets in the English Grand National Steeplechase lotteries. Interesting—but it's not news that is going to do anyone any particular good.

Indeed, that news item probably will do a great deal of harm, in one way and another, during the next year. Hundreds of people, reading it, will be inspired to go and do likewise, and will spend money they cannot afford to lose on lottery tickets that will bring them nothing whatever.

If the news excites you, you might remember for every story like that that gets printed there are several thousand that do not get printed—the stories of those who bought lottery tickets and got nothing.

Buying lottery tickets is foolish business, even if one person in 10,000 does get rich out of it.

A LITTLE BIT LATE.

That Buffalo artist, whose love affair with an Indian model was most unfortunately followed by the murder of his wife, was rather deeply enraged by the treatment defense lawyers gave him on the witness stand at the girl's trial for murder. Stepping down from the stand, he announced with considerable heat that he was "through with women."

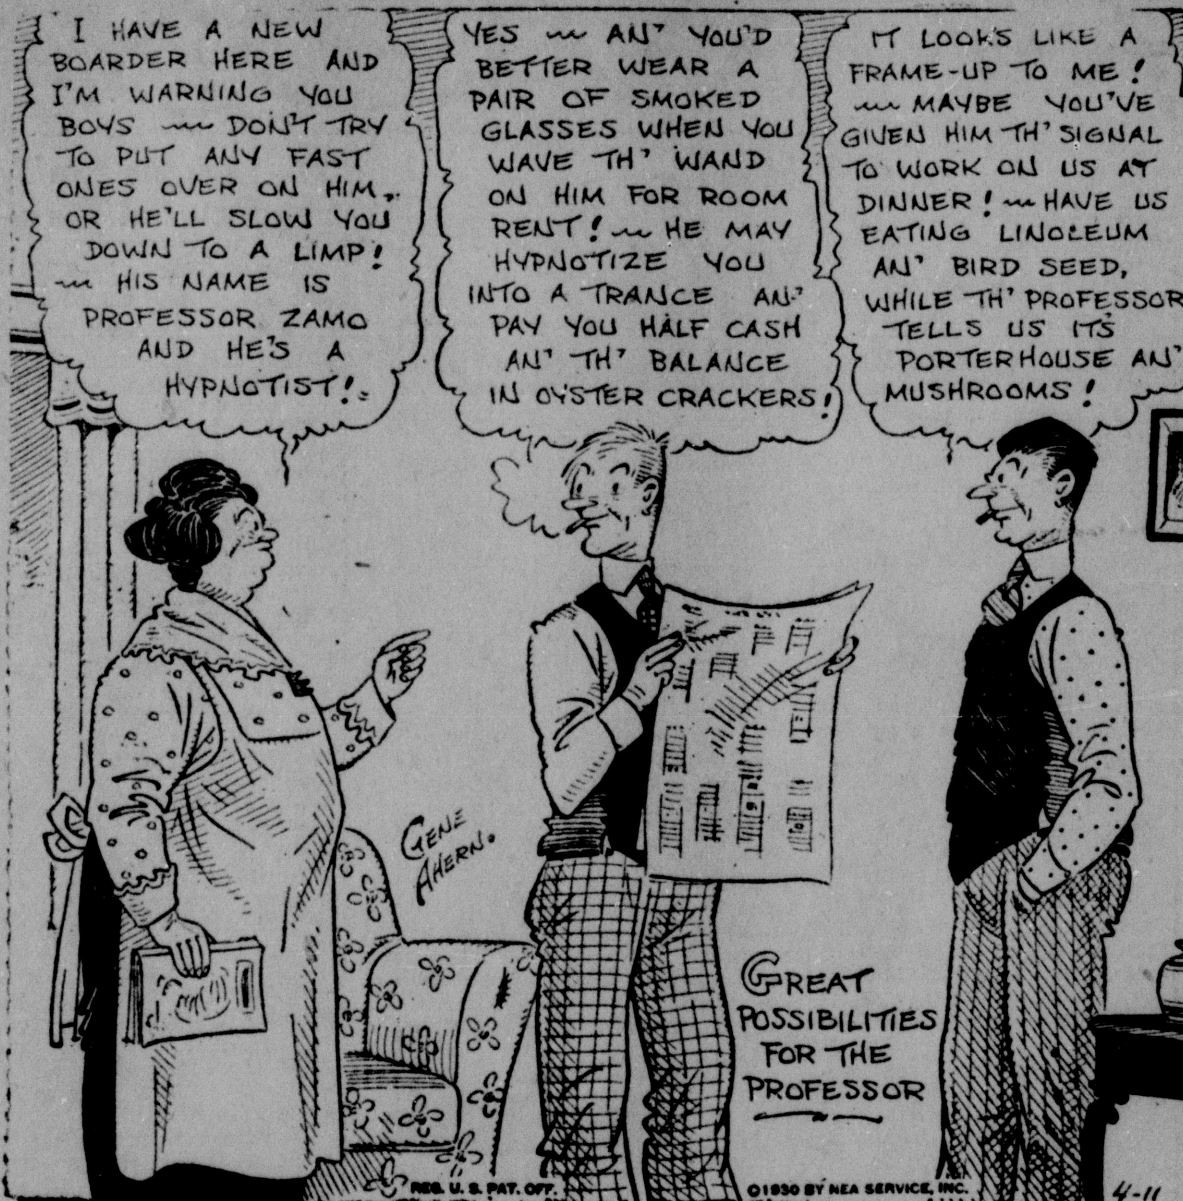

This is an excellent decision, and the gentleman can hardly be blamed for making it. One can only add that it is a pity, in view of one thing and another, that he didn't reach it some time sooner.

A cousin of Paderewski plays the accordion. This proves that a talent for music does not always run in the family.

If Henry Ford gives that $100,000,000 he plans to devote to education to a college, he will doubtless refer to it as his Alma Motor.

When Thomas A. Edison said, "Everything comes to him who hustles while he waits," he probably had in mind the hitch-hiker.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

THE TINYMITES

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The Tynmites were kept on the go for 'bout a half an hour or so and then the Travel Man said, "Well, we've seen all we can see within this palace. Now let's go. Where to? Well, I'm sure I don't know. You Tynmites suggest some place. Don't leave it all to me."

"I'll tell you what," wee Scouty cried. "Let's take another taxi ride. I like to ride about this town. It's quite a pretty sight. We'll all be good. I'm sure of that." Just then the wind took Clowny's hat. In chasing it, right down the street, he ran with all his might.

The others laughed to see him go. And Clowny shouted, loudly, "Whoa!" But, as his hat was not a horse, of course it didn't stop. At last the hat dropped on the ground and Clowny took one sudden bound. Quite luckily he grabbed it, though he took an awful flop.

When he came back the Travel Man said, "You're tired out from how you ran. You'd better sit and rest awhile. We all will do the same." They found some benches right nearby and everyone dropped, with a sigh. Soon Scouty said, "Aw, let's not sit. To waste time is a shame."

It wasn't long until a car came up. "Well, well, now! Here we are," exclaimed the good old Travel Man. "It's big enough for all. Hop right inside the auto, bunch. We'll drive away and get some lunch." And Clowny, cried, "Oh, my! I hope the engine doesn't stall."

They soon went on their merry way until they found a nice cafe. The cab was told to wait until they all had had their fill. And then they all agreed to ride 'way out along the countryside. It seemed the farther that they went the bigger was the thrill.

DAILY LENTEN THOUGHT

By WM. E. GILROY, D. D.
Editor of The Congregationalist

There is a story of St. Fox, a French nobleman, who was troubled about the youthful and revolutionary enthusiasms of his son, who had a passion to redeem society. St. Fox took the young man aside, pulled open the doors of a cabinet concealing a crucifix, and remarked, "My son, behold the fate of a reformer."

St. Fox spoke better than he knew. The cross has indeed been the fate of the reformer, and it was the fate of the greatest reformer of all, Jesus of Nazareth, who sought not merely to reform, but to redeem the world.

St. Fox's son may have been dissuaded from his reforming enthusiasms by his father's calculating and cynical reference to the cross; but it is worth while to realize that those who have had sincere passion for love and righteousness and who have had at heart the world's salvation have not been dissuaded from the way of love and service even because of the cross.

Nothing so indicates the divinity in humanity as the persistent quest of truth and righteousness even though the way be rough and thorny, and there be the cross at its end. Jesus might well have despaired of reaching men with his message had he not known this deep quality in human life.

It was because of this that he made his appeal, trusting that men would follow him, and his appeal was not in vain. The disciples left all and followed him, and there were those who were willing to go with him even to the cross.

Daily Health Talk

SMALLPOX
BY GRADY MATHEWS, M. D.
Claremont, Okla.

(This series of articles is prepared under the direction of the Gorgas Memorial Institute, which is organized to perpetuate the life work of the late Major-General Gorgas in preventing unnecessary illness. The headquarters of the Institute are at 1331 G Street, N. W., Washington D. C.)

How many people are aware of the fact that there are more cases of smallpox reported by the United States than by any other nation in the world, with the exception of certain parts of Asia?

In several parts of the country at the present time, there is an unusual amount of this disease, and one reason that makes it hard for health authorities to combat it, is its mild form. People are careless about consulting a doctor, and by mingling with others when they really should be quarantined they increase both its prevalence and its incidence.

Smallpox is to a very large degree preventable, and the will of the people determines whether or not it shall invade a community. Vaccination definitely protects. The protection does not persist for all time, and no definite statement can be made as to the length of immunity, which varies with the individual person. But there has never been, as far as the records of the Health Department reveal, any case that developed within five years after a successful take.

It has been contended by those opposed to vaccination, that the disease is one of the filth and that it can be controlled and prevented by sanitation alone. The facts do not bear out these contentions.

Smallpox attacks people of every race and nationality, sparing neither young or old, exalted or lowly, clean or unclean. It spreads and thrives in communities enjoying all the benefits of modern sanitation; on the other hand it has been prevented by vaccination and quarantine in very unsanitary districts. Notification quarantine and isolation are aids in preventing smallpox but they are no more than that; vaccination is the only way to control it.

Present day vaccination is harmless. In Detroit a few years ago, during a very serious epidemic, there were 817,000 vaccinations without serious after effects; but one person out of every three who contracted smallpox died.

Therefore, the solution to the prevention of smallpox is vaccination and re-vaccination at not more than five year intervals.

THAT a whole lot of careless automobile drivers should remember that they are to use their heads and that it is supposed to be in them. They should keep in mind that public highways are not for their exclusive use. Other people have rights the same as they.

The horn of their car is put there for a purpose. They should not steal up behind people and try to pass them without tooting their horn. They should use it whenever the occasion demands it.

Somebody is always likely to drive into their path from side streets or roads.

They should always be on the outlook for the unexpected.

The unexpected is always the thing they should expect.

Serious attention should always be given to the driving of a car.

It doesn't pay to be sorry after it happens.

They should see that it doesn't happen—then they won't be sorry.

A great majority of the accidents that mar the pleasure of motoring can be laid at the door of careless drivers who imagine they can keep their minds on other things and still be competent to operate the machine safely and sanely while so doing.

Justice and judgment are the habitation of thy throne: mercy and truth shall go before thy face. Psalms 89

And earthly power doth then show likest God's when mercy seasons justice. Shakespeare

Justice—Truth is its handmaid, freedom is its child, peace is its companion, safety walks in its steps, victory follows in its train: it is the brightest emanation from the gospel, it is the attribute of God. Sidney Smith

Divine justice is always merciful because it so uncovers and rebukes sin through the suffering which sin itself inevitably produces and entails, that the sinner gladly turns from it to the tender ministrations of that divine Love which permits only good to be lasting and real; which causes and maintains, creates and sustains only the perfection wherein is neither sin nor suffering. $2,500,000 Corsair Christened With Champagne

Bath, Me., April 11—(UP)—A new dream-ship—champagne dripping from its bows—glided down the ways Thursday as J. P. Morgan's $2,500,000 yacht Corsair, was launched.

Only a few friends of the eminent financier were within the Bath Iron Works Shipyard as Mrs. George Nichols, Morgan's daughter, cracked the quart of 1915 vintage champagne on the bow. But there were hundreds outside the wire enclosure who watched the most expensive private vessel in the world take the water. Luxury is the vessel's keynote. It has the characteristic black hull of the Morgan boats, a super-structure of white and teak. All exposed woodwork is of teak imported from India. Paneling, beam work and decking is of the same material except in the crew's quarters and those are furnished in mahogany.

Here is a thumbnail sketch of the largest private craft afloat:

Length—343 feet 8 inches (over all)
Beam—42 feet 6 inches
Draft—18 feet
Displacement—2712 tons
Power—Two Turbo-electric units capable of 6000 H. P.
Maximum speed—16 knots.
Cruising radius—25,000 miles.
Crew—88 men.

It was the first time since prohibition that real champagne had been used for christening purposes at the historic Bath Yard, and shipwrights who witnessed the revival of a beloved tradition unhesitatingly predicted a career for the Corsair.

The owner's quarters on the main deck include a stateroom, writing room, bath and roomy cedar-lined closet. Five similar staterooms have been provided on the starboard side for guests.

MISERABLE WITH STOMACH, KIDNEYS, GLY-CAS MAGICAL

Suffering Entirely Ended by Gly-Cas; Now Enjoys Good Health.

"Gly-Cas did for me what no other medicine could do, relieve me of my years of suffering from rheumatism, stomach and kidney trouble," said Mr. Charles Dunbar, well known employee of the C. B. & Q. R. R., who lives at 238 East Berrier St., Galesburg, Illinois.

MR. CHARLES DUNBAR

"For years I suffered terribly before I found Gly-Cas," continued Mr. Dunbar, "the severe rheumatic pain in the middle of my back made me miserable, I could not sleep or work at all, besides this I had terrible bloating spells after every meal, no matter what I ate, formed in my stomach and caused me such pain and misery, even my bowels were irregular and I was in general poor health, unable to find anything to help me, until I tried Gly-Cas and it has certainly done wonders for me."

"Gly-Cas reached my case from the very first and did me more good than all the other medicines I have ever used, it entirely rid me of rheumatism, stomach and kidney trouble. Those awful rheumatic pains in my back have left me, my kidneys no longer bother me, and I can eat onions with no ill effects afterwards as hard as they are to digest. I no longer have gas pains either and my bowels have been regulated. I sleep good, feel fine and can say that Gly-Cas has given me new health and anyone suffering as I did should not fail to try it."

Gly-Cas is sold in Dixon at the Campbell White Cross Pharmacy; Dixon; W. J. Long West Brooklyn and Franklin Grove, G. S. Ives; Polo, C. R. Clothier; Ashton, G. R. Toledo, O.—Not only have the White Sox adopted the role of giant killers, but they promise to show the home town some home runs this season.
In the 1929 campaign the White Sox collected only 37 circuit clouts. So far this spring in their successful series with the Giants and minor league clubs, they have totaled 38 homers. With the edge, nine to five in their favor, Donie Bush's men faced the Giants again today.

Chicago—Night baseball has piqued the curiosity of Ernest Barnard, president of the American League.

While he sees no immediate need for night contests in either of the major leagues, President Barnard plans to attend the opening arc-light game played by the Des Moines club of the Western League at Des Moines, Ia.

Chattanooga, Tenn.—At last Babe Ruth really has knocked a baseball clear out of sight, but he didn't get a home run when he did it. The Babe drove one off the top of Lookout Mountain here yesterday and no one saw how far it went. In the game against the Chattanooga

Southern Association team, the best the Babe could do on his lame leg was get one triple, which Karlen ran out for him, and let a few balls get past him in left field which he ordinarily would pull down.

Kansas City, Mo.—Rogers Hornsby has advised the Cubs he will report again for duty tomorrow. The soreness in his heel and right ankle have disappeared and the "Rajah," who has been loafing about his farm near St. Louis, is eager to get back into harness.

As Manager Joe McCarthy predicted, the Cubs snapped back into form as soon as they landed in the midwest. They clawed the Kansas City Blues, 16 to 1, in yesterday's exhibition opener behind Sheriff Blake's masterful pitching. The second game was programmed for today.

Havana—Mike Gonzales, veteran Cuban catcher, is going to Chicago to play baseball—but not for the Cubs. Gonzales, who was released by the Chicago Nationals last winter because of a weak arm, wants to vindicate himself and prove that his arm is as strong as ever. He expects to catch with a semi-pro team in Chicago for the summer.

"The Cubs do not need my services any longer," Mike said last night, "but that is not my fault. I always gave them the best baseball I had in my system. This winter, all of a sudden, I was released and heard with no little surprise that I had developed a weak arm. Such news was quite interesting but far from the truth. I am still a good catcher and I can prove it."

Havana fans and sports writers, who have watched Mike play this winter, are ready to back him up. "Any runner who can steal a base on him is entitled to it," is their opinion.

MANY ELKS PAID TRIBUTE TO H. C. WARNER LAST EVE

President Of State Assn. Guest Of Honor At Happy Banquet

Officers and members of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks from eighteen northern Illinois cities gathered last evening at the Dixon Elks club at a meeting sponsored by Louis Pitcher, chairman of the state committee on inter-Elk relations, which honored Harry C. Warner of Dixon, president of the Illinois Elks Association. The cities represented by delegations were: Woodstock, Sycamore, DeKalb, Oak Park, Mendota, Galesburg, Rockford, Sterling, Canton, Rochelle, Princeton, Aurora, Joliet, Blue Island, Harvey, LaSalle, Elmhurst, Dixon and Charlevoix, Pa.

Following the banquet at 7 o'clock, Mr. Pitcher was introduced by Exalted Ruler Guy H. Merriam and acted as toastmaster for the evening. He first introduced J. Edgar Masters of Charlevoix, Pa., Past Grand Exalted Ruler and present Grand Secretary of the Grand Lodge. In his remarks, the speaker paid a glowing tribute to the honor guest and said:

"His activities in the Illinois Elks Association has attracted the attention of the Grand Lodge, who have watched his work with interest. He has been earnest and sincere in his presidency of the state association and in all of his activities with the Grand Lodge and I bespeak for him far greater recognition in Elkindom."

Letters and telegrams expressing the regrets of Elks active in the state and Grand Lodge were read by the toastmaster from Martin Carlson, Moline; John J. Faulkner and Bruce Campbell of East St. Louis and W. E. Jordan of Pana, who, while unable to be present, gave fine testimonials of the high esteem in which Mr. Warner is held in Illinois Elkindom.

Dr. W. R. Fletcher, postmaster at Joliet and past president of the Illinois Elks Association; George Hasselman of LaSalle, secretary of the state association; William Frazer of Blue Island, past president of the association; John Dubbs of Mendota, district deputy for the northwest district; Senator Harry G. Wright of DeKalb and Judge Eugene Welch of Galesburg, gave short talks. Secretary Hasselman paid tribute to President Warner by stating that his term as president of the Illinois Association was one of the most successful in the history of the organization.

Rev. Fr. Joseph Lonergan of Woodstock, chaplain of the Illinois Elks Association and a former Dixon boy, paid a beautiful tribute to the honor guest as well as to the order of Elks. In this, he stressed the element of human happiness afforded in the daily national life through the teachings of the order.

Fr. Lonergan Speaks.

"There are many organizations in the United States, but the Elks are the greatest in our national life insofar as I have been able to observe and experience. There are many organizations in these United States and in official circles who are taking in too much territory. They are concerned in the happiness of the world and in a generation or two it will be very necessary that less energy be exerted along international lines and more along national lines. The Order of Elks is an American organization which is not taking in the world, but are confining themselves and their activities to this particular part of the world instilling happiness and making an example which will make for far more good to the world than the interference which we are now experiencing."

The honor guest this evening, President Harry C. Warner of the Illinois Elks Association, is a product of Dixon and of the great state of Illinois. Dixon was my home and Illinois was the home of Grant, Logan and Lincoln, who entered our national life and now we are sending a Joan of Arc to Washington. President Warner is a staunch believer in the exaltation of the spirit of Americanism as has been demonstrated in his activities in both the state and national organizations." This was the first public appearance of Rev. Fr. Lonergan as chaplain of the Illinois Elks association, since his appointment by President H. C. Warner several weeks ago.

William Savage, district deputy for the northeast district of Oak Park, and Charles Harvard of Elmhurst were the last speakers on the program. Toastmaster Pitcher then presented to the honor guest two fine presents, one a pair of hunting trousers and the other a beautiful onyx desk set. Lester Street, an officer of the Dixon lodge, presented the state president with a pipe set.

President Warner in response to being called upon for a few remarks told the Elks who had assembled in his honor that he was unable to express his sincere appreciation for the reception accorded by the lodges of the northern section of the state. The program for the evening concluded with an entertainment in the lodge hall.

Who Helps You? NOT The Chain Stores!

MEN FOLKS AND HOUSEWIVES:—

SHALL WE PERMIT GLUTTONOUS CHAIN STORES to continue to devour the wealth and prosperity of our fine community? Shall we sit idly by and be content to turn this town over to chain organizations that care absolutely nothing about us, citizen, business man, professional man, farmer, teacher, or workman, our home town institutions, our churches and schools, and the future welfare of our children? Let's keep our money at home, where it can contribute to the upbuilding and betterment of our city.

Farmers:

DO YOU KNOW THAT CHAIN GROCERY STORES HURT FARM PRICES

Read in this ad what the Prairie Farmer says

Would You Like to Know—?

Read! Read!

"The Uninvited Guest"

JUST suppose you were having a big family dinner party—a real turkey, with cranberry sauce, dressing and everything, and the table was all set for a happy time—when all of a sudden, without even knocking, the door is opened and in steps a burly, double-fisted guy who proceeds to sit down at the head of the table and hog all the good things that you and yours had to labor to prepare. WHAT WOULD YOU DO?

You would do everything in your power to drive him out of your house, wouldn't you? Then why should you continue to trade with the foreign chain stores and mail order houses? Don't you realize that they are devouring the wealth and prosperity of our community in exactly the same manner as an uninvited guest who came into your home?

THE foreign chain stores enter your community after the feast has been prepared—your roads paved, your churches and schools built, your sewerage system and water plant paid for. Their never-ending process of taking out and putting nothing back will eventually bleed our town of its very life blood. Do we want this? No, we want instead a growing community pulsating with civic pride and opportunities for all.

Stand by Your HOME TOWN MERCHANTS and Institutions

Can You, Mr. Farmer, Read This Article from the "Prairie Farmer," and Still Patronize Chain Stores?

(BY HERMAN STEEN)

"The principal contact that farmers have had with chain stores is that of buying goods over their counters. Some have found that they can purchase supplies more economically than they could through the old-fashioned grocery stores, others have learned that the opposite is true—this experience, by the way, being about the same as that of town and city people. This contact over the grocery counter is, however, unimportant as compared with a larger problem.

"This larger question is whether agriculture as a whole gains or loses through the operation of the chain-store system—whether the chain stores are improving the methods of distribution of farm products or whether they are actually making it more difficult to stabilize agriculture upon a basis that makes possible a reasonable return.

"Many market observers are reporting that concentration of buying power in the chain-store companies has a pronounced bearish effect upon the market for farm products. From authentic reports of this kind which have come to me, I submit the following as typical.

"1. The sales manager of one of the large packers reports that the large chain stores are always the first to resist an advance in meat prices and always the first to demand a decline. They are mean to deal with, stubborn and arbitrary in the extreme, and their great buying power makes them a dangerous factor with which to contend," he says.

"2. One of my friends is the manager of a large potato cooperative in the East. He writes me thus: 'It was a long, hard struggle to establish our cooperative on a solid basis, but we did it. We had extensive and satisfactory trade connections. Four years ago we had an attractive offer for our entire output from a chain-store company. We accepted the offer. Our dealing that year were quite satisfactory. They were not as good the next year, but we had no real ground for complaint. By the third year we had lost all our old trade connections, and the chain-store company cut its price to us very sharply. This year we were at their mercy, and they took everything but the hide. This experience cost our farmers many thousands of dollars. Now we've got to begin all over again.'

"It may be a coincidence, but a government man just told me of a fruit growers' association in Florida which had an identical experience.

"3. Several managers of cooperative associations and government inspectors report that some of the chain-store companies object to buying on the basis of government grades. They want to buy on their own standards, which are not known to the seller in most cases, which often causes loss and trouble. Government grades have been a distinct advantage to the producers of most farm commodities and give them a protection which they did not formerly enjoy.

"4. Last winter there was one witness who raised most of the objections to the proposed increase in the beef tariff. He was a chain-store man. His opposition was bitter and his remarks caustic. All of the farm groups were united in asking for the increased beef tariff.

"WON'T KEEP IN LINE"

"5. Dairy cooperatives shipping butter and cheese write me that when there is a temporary over-supply in the market they have the greatest difficulty keeping the chain-store buyers in line. Their program is to force the price down beyond all reason, even if it is perfectly apparent that the over-supply will be but temporary. I was also told the same thing only a day or two ago about conditions in the egg trade by a large Chicago produce man.

"6. One chain-store company operates packing plants in Columbus and Cincinnati. It is the testimony of all the commission men with whom I talked the other day in Cincinnati that this company, which has a large influence in the market, is always more difficult to sell livestock to than any other buyer there."—From the "Prairie Farmer" Magazine.

KONJOLA ENDED STUBBORN ILLS

Chicago Lady Had Remarkable Experience With New and Different Medicine.

MRS. S. B. SCHOOLEY

"If all the world knew about Konjola what I do the demand for this marvelous medicine could not be met," said Mrs. S. B. Schooley, 117 South Oakley boulevard, Chicago. "For six months I suffered from kidney trouble that brought no end of distress. Dizzy spells became so frequent and severe I could not walk any distance without resting. My back ached, and I was without strength or ambition.

"While visiting in Michigan I was told about Konjola, and upon my return to Chicago I began the Konjola treatment. It took just four bottles of this splendid medicine to drive away those terrible dizzy spells; to relieve the backache, and give me renewed strength and energy. So you see why I am enthusiastic about Konjola, and believe it to be the world's greatest medicine."

Each of Konjola's 33 ingredients—23 of them the juices of roots and herbs—has a special duty to perform on the ailing organs. Many who have given it a fair trial (six to eight bottles) have declared there is no other medicine like it.

Konjola is sold in Dixon at the FARMER'S DRUG STORE, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

SHERWIN-WILLIAMS PAINT HEADQUARTERS

Let cold figures prove the economy of SWP

Here are facts on painting, which we can prove by the simplest arithmetic. SWP is the most economical paint you can put on your house. It costs more per gallon, of course. But did you ever stop to think of how much extra surface a gallon of SWP covers? Mark this—a gallon of SWP will thoroughly cover almost twice as much surface as cheaper paint. Therefore far fewer gallons of SWP are needed. In addition, SWP lasts twice as long as cheaper paint—saves repair bills by giving full protection to the surface—and its rich, weather-proof colors retain their beauty to the end. Come in and let our figures prove it.

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY SUGGESTIONS

PALE FLOWER

SOMETHING for my heart's delight,
A pale white flower in the night,

Sixtieth Marriage Anniversary Observed

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Reed of 1511 Third avenue, Sterling, were happily surprised at their home Monday evening on the occasion of their sixtieth wedding anniversary when children and family connections called upon them and had a most enjoyable supper together.

There were four generations of the Reed family present. Both Mr. and Mrs. Reed were in their usual good health and enjoyed greatly the splendid time with the young folks.

Those in the family party were, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Reed, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Reed, Miss Mary Reed and Robert Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Allen and daughter, Ardella and sons Jerry, Junior, and Kenneth; Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Reed, son Clarence and daughter Evelyn; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Walters and daughter Lois; Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Reed and son Lester; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Shoaf.

Mr. and Mrs. Reed were married in Franklin county, Pa., April 7th, 1870. Mrs. Reed before her marriage was Miss Catherine Wedney. The couple went to housekeeping at Doyleburg, Pa., where Mr. Reed worked for 11 years as a leather tanner. They then moved to a farm and lived 13 years, later moving to a farm in the Cumberland valley, where they spent another 13 years.

They came to Illinois in 1902 and settled on a farm near Nelson, Lee county. In 1910 they went to Moline, where they lived until 1927, when they went to Sterling, where they have lived ever since. They have a cozy little new bungalow and a fine garden space. Tuesday Mr. and Mrs. Reed worked in this garden enjoying the fine warm sunshine and pulverizing and making into beds and rows the rich black earth. Mr. Reed used a section of a tree which he had made into a roller with which to roll down the dry earth. Mrs. Reed will be 80 years old June 1, and Mr. Reed will be 81 in July.

Mr. and Mrs. Reed were the parents of nine children, eight of whom are living. Dr. Harley A. Reed, their oldest child, died of flu in Indiana in 1919. The living children are: Howard Reed, of Nelson; Ferdinand Reed, of the Pennington road; Alex C. Reed, of Sterling; Mrs. Frank Meigars of Elgin; George Reed, of Moline; Dave Reed, of Fremont, Ohio; and John Reed, of Newark. Mr. and Mrs. Reed belong to the Fourth St. Methodist church. They have a multitude of friends in Sterling and elsewhere who wish them added years of health and happiness together.

Hollywood, Cal., April 10—(UP)—While he steadfastly refused to discuss the details, John McCormick today confirmed the report that he and his wife, Golden Moore, film star, have separated.

"It is true that we have separated," he said, "but I feel that Mrs. McCormick should make any statements that are to be made."

Miss Moore could not be reached. Since returning from an extensive trip around the United States with her mother several days ago, the actress has been staying with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Morrison in Beverly Hills.

The WOMAN'S DAY

by ALLENE SUMNER

A sad-faced, but obviously young woman appeared in court recently in New York, summoned there by a police warrant. She had not paid her since January, and the landlord, annoyed, wanted his due.

Her story revealed this domestic situation: Her husband who had been out of work for some time, left home some time in the fall, allegedly to get work somewhere in Boston, and had never been heard from since.

She had no way of supporting her two children, two and four years old, except by doing housework, in which case she would have to leave them. So she met the December rent by selling off most of the furniture. She bought what food they needed by the same system. But she had no money for the January rent, and no more furniture to sell. February's bill was just ahead, and it was just as impossible.

UNUSUAL VERDICT
The judge was a humane man, and here certainly was a situation to arouse the protective instinct. Instead of issuing an order to have her and children and their non-furniture placed on the sidewalk, he said:

"I will pay your January rent myself."

And another man who happened to be listening to the case spoke up: "I will advance your February check."

Not to be outdone, a third man took up a collection and when the woman left the court, her two month's rent bill had been paid, and she had $40 in hand.

Everybody had had a nice emotional time, and all concerned had had the extreme pleasure of helping a person in need—which, as we all know, really does give one the unusual sensation of being slightly worth while. And the woman went out with tears of gratitude streaming down her face.

WHAT OF THE FUTURE?
But I can't help looking beyond the present, and seeing that in a month or so, she will be exactly where she was when she entered the courtroom, and maybe she will be hauled into court soon again by the same landlord.

Forty dollars, as we all know, will buy considerable grade A milk, whole wheat bread and the vegetables that children should have. But it doesn't last indefinitely—as also, we all know. And what is the poor soul going to do when this is gone, but repeat the first performance?

Besides temporary relief, this woman needed more. I think society owes her a little more. She needs to be directed to some sort of vocational guidance bureau, or be placed some way so that she can earn some income, and still care for her children.

In other words, she needed more than just temporary relief, and more than extemporaneous generosity. And she should have some relief for the future as well as the present.

Getting her out of the deep water, but leaving her stranded on the shore is not enough. Another big wave will drag her under again.

PAJAMAS MAY GIVE NURSES IN ENGLAND

London—(AP)—Pajama suits are on display in London as the ideal uniform for nurses.

At the annual Nursing exhibition, some 3,000 nurses who visited the show were amazed to discover overalls and pajamas as the garb to replace the time-honored ankle-length skirt of stiffly starched linen.

The short versus long skirt argument waged hot and heavy during the exhibition. Many nurses put themselves on record as violently opposed to the traditional length. Others claimed that only well-covered legs could produce a dignified appearance.

Many Diges poll have been issued to women.

"The National W. C. T. U. has advised members to vote in the Literary Digest poll," the statement said, "but we find few W. C. T. U. women receiving ballots because the Digest lists are preponderantly the names of men. The ballots have been sent only to those listed as automobile owners or telephone subscribers and only a few of these are women."

"There are 10,000 local W. C. T. U. organizations in the 48 states and scarcely one per cent of the members has received Digest ballots. Therefore we believe the poll will be a fair count of men but will underestimate dry strength."

Wawokiye Club in Pleasant Meeting

Mrs. Edward Johnson delightfully entertained the members of the Wawokiye club in an all-day meeting at her home in Nachusa, Wednesday. A goodly number of members and friends were present for the delicious picnic dinner. The table was prettily decorated in keeping with the Easter season. The business for the afternoon was quickly disposed of after the Scripture reading, roll call and minutes. The meeting was then taken charge of by the program committee and a most delightful program was enjoyed. The names drawn for the next program committee were Mrs. Hoban, Mrs. Lievan assisting. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Ralph Lievan in Nachusa. The guests departed at a late hour after having spent a most enjoyable day with Mrs. Johnson.

So. Dixon Community Club in Meeting

The South Dixon Community Club held the first afternoon meeting of the season Wednesday with Mrs. Walter Ortgiesen, a good attendance of members being present. The meeting was called to order by the president and opened with the club song. Roll was then called and some business discussed. The meeting was then turned over to the program chairman and a few games were enjoyed. Mrs. Henry was the winner in one, this game causing much laughter, and the other games were won by four other members and they were treated to Easter candy. The hostess served a very tempting luncheon, assisted by Mrs. Arnold Götzel and Mrs. George Travis. The meeting then closed all declaring they had had a most delightful time. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Walter Lievan.

Now Its Sophistication in the Spinach

Some thoughtful soul has designed a way to add to the general attractiveness and palatability of our old friend and vitamin yielder, spinach! She places two or three sections of grapefruit atop each serving of spinach, lending to the lowly vegetable an agreeable tart taste and a note of style not usually found in our healthful friend. By using the ready-to-serve grapefruit, the sections may simply be lifted from the can at serving time, with no fuss or bother.

WAS CONCEDED TO BE AN UNFAIR TEST

(From the Hopkins, Mo., Journal.) "Tomorrow night," said the evangelist, "I'm going to talk about liars. Before the service I would like everyone to read the seventeenth chapter of Mark."

The following evening at the beginning of his remarks he said, "My subject tonight is 'Liars.' How many of you read the seventeenth chapter of Mark?"

More than 200 hands went up. "Those who raised their hands will pay particular attention," said the evangelist. "There is no seventeenth chapter of Mark."

YOUR CHILDREN

by OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON
© 1930 BY NEA SERVICE INC.

A mother said to me recently:

"Have manners and politeness for children gone out of style? A little girl came to my house daily to play with my own little girl and if I ask her ever so nicely to help put away the toys afterwards, she won't do it. If I insist, she says 'You aren't my boss.' What am I to do—Certainly she breeds defiance in my own child."

Of course, the trouble here is with the home training of the visitor. The mother of that little girl must realize that by failing to instill in her daughter an obligation to those whom she visits and that when she is in the house of another person she must submit to the rules of that house, she is preparing the way for trouble for that child all along the line for years to come.

It's A Common Attitude

The episode of the toys and the little girl's refusal to help put them away, especially the remark about the "boss," is nearly symbolic of her attitude to all grownups outside of her own home.

Her idea of authority is ended with her parents. The chances are it doesn't even begin there, for a child who talks that way usually acknowledges no authority whatsoever, even in her own house.

When a child says to her teacher, "You can't boss me. I don't have to mind anyone but my mother," the odds are against much discipline of any sort in that house.

But grant that there really is order and discipline in the child's home and he goes out to defy society—to take all the advantages and accent its benefits without contributing either obedience or courtesy to those who have a right to expect it. I can't help believing that when such is the case, it is due to carelessness or oversight on the part of those caring for him. Children have to be told.

Our children go about, on our neighbor's property, in their houses, even riding in their cars. They go to stores, they go to movies, they go to school, to church and to games.

Parents should make it quite clear to them that no matter where they are they must obey the rules of these places and respect the word of those in charge. On the street they must obey the laws of the city.

A child visiting in another home supposed to cooperate with the mother in that home and do as she says, unless it conflicts with principle. In that case, she should stay away.

FASHION HINTS—

LUSTERLESS HOSIERY—Some new chiffon hosiery comes in a lusterless finish, designed to give the illusion of no stockings at all. With skirts longer, shoes come into prominence and legs fade out.

LINEN SQUARES—Big squares of fine pastel colored linen, quite the size of a man's handkerchief, are the newest sports handkerchiefs. They should match one's soft crepe or flannel suit.

IRREGULAR BRIMS—Some of the new hats of lacy straws for suit wear have decidedly large brims but they are delightfully irregular. One cuts its brim to a point in front, with a grosgrain bow at the part.

BLACK PINK—That touch of Patou's rose opaline is in evidence on many black hats and black dresses. Since pink is so exquisitely feminine and black so chic, it is a combination hard to beat. But if you are hatching up a black hat and frock, both using pink, be sure your pinks match.

NEW BLOUSES—There must be thousands of new blouses on the market. Most of them have ties, jabots, ruffles, or collars. The neckline is elaborated on all.

ELBOW CIRCLET—If you have any old heirloom bracelets dig them out. Wear them on your left arm, just above the elbow, with puff sleeves or no sleeves at all above them.

HURDLERS AND SPRINTERS HOLD MOST ATTENTION

Records Are Likely To Be Broken In Contests During Season

BY BERT DEMBY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Chicago, Apr. 11—(UP)—So abundant are star performers that the sprint and hurdles races promise to steal most of the headlines during the coming important track and field meets.

Stars who have proved their worth in past seasons, and new men who show great promise have banded themselves into an entry list for the bigger meets which promise the greatest competition in years and track men predict that several records will be broken.

Leading the sprint parade is George Simpson, who last year ran 100 yards in the amazing time of 9.4 seconds and 220 yards in 20.6. But the great Ohio State star will not have a "clinch" in any race he enters this year.

Among the stars of last year who gain are after him are Eddie Tolan, Claude Bracey, Karl Wildermuth and Cy Leland. Tolan, flashy little Negro, beat Simpson in the Big Ten 100 yard race last year.

Then there is a world of class among the newcomers. Zack Ford of Northwestern already has beaten Simpson twice in short races. Attention also must be given to Wykoff of the Pacific coast and don't forget Jimmy Daley of Holy Cross.

Records In Danger
Some track experts forecast that the average time of the important 100 yard races this year will be around 9.7 seconds. That 220 yard sprint meet records will be in danger is proved by the fact that three or four of the stars have clocked 21 seconds flat for the distance.

In the hurdles nearly all the good ones of last year are back. Perhaps Dick Rockaway of Ohio State will draw the most attention. Rockaway, a high hurdle specialist and national collegiate champion in his event last year, will run into plenty of competition, however, despite his holding the world record of 22.8 seconds in the low hurdles.

There are Stollweck of Colgate and those three middlewesterners who have been burning up the indoor meets—Lee Sentman, Illinois; Rodgers, Illinois; and George Saling, Iowa.

Stephen Anderson of Washington beat Rockaway in the National Intercollegiate 220 yard event last year. Cave of Illinois is a great low stick man.

Then there are Payne, Southern California; Haydon, Chicago; and Keiselhorst, Yale.

Haydon will be hard to beat if he again can hit the stride he attained in the indoor meets of last year when he was indoor champion of the Big Ten. He didn't fare well in outdoor meets but expects to be in first class shape this year.

DEMOCRATS TO MEET
Springfield, Ill., April 10—(AP)—With former Senator James Hamilton Lewis as the probable keynote, the Democratic state convention will be held here Friday, April 18.

Preliminary arrangements are now being made for the gathering by a special committee appointed by Thomas F. Donovan, Democratic National Committeeman and Chairman of the State Central Committee. The convention will be held in the state Capitol building.

The committee appointed by Donovan consists of J. Y. Yantis, of Shelbyville, Charles Powers of Central and V. Y. Dalman of Springfield.

$25,000 DAMAGE AWARDED
New York, April 10—(UP)—A jury in supreme court awarded Mrs. Adelaide Lean, 58-year-old grandmother $25,000 for breach of promise from Charles H. Harman, elderly "mother's boy" millionaire, today.

Mrs. Lean sued for $250,000, charging Harman wed another after he had supported her for a period of time, and was known to her grandchildren as "Grandpa."

Harman was characterized in closing arguments by counsel for Mrs. Lean as a "mother's boy who had never been married before." The jury, selected on the basis of negative answers to the questions "are you a woman hater?" deliberated four hours yesterday before Judge Churchill ordered the sealed verdict.

GET 1000 GAL. STILL
Chicago, Apr. 10—(AP)—Federal prohibition agents arrested nine men and confiscated a 1,000 gallon still with all its equipment and 1,200 gallons of alcohol in a raid on the Wilharm farm near Palatine today.

In two small barns on the farm, the agents found the still, 600,000 gallons of mash, 35 pounds of sugar, 850 pounds of yeast, a 50 horse power steam boiler and two large columns used in distilling.

Virtually, there are only four countries not under white control. They are China, Japan, Abyssinia and Turkey.

Maple syrup having a farm value of $2,112,000 and maple sugar with a value of $270,000 were produced in Vermont in 1929.

OWNER OF BIG OIL WELL GETS MANY PROPOSALS

Which She And Husband Chuckle Over For She's Aged 60

Oklahoma City, Okla., April 11—(UP)—The Sudik family, with a fortune in prospect if the Mary Sudik oil well that ran wild for 13 days produces as lavishly under control, spends hours these days joshing Mrs. Sudik about the scores of proposals she gets by mail.

The 60-year-old housewife, with a husband, children and a grandchild, gets just as much fun out of it as anyone. Because the most rambunctious oil well in Oklahoma history was named after her, Mrs. Sudik's name appeared in hundreds of newspapers. Swains in all parts of the country have deluged her with offers of marriage.

"Here's a good one," the jovial lady of the house said today as she read a missive from a miner in Butte, Mont.

"I am young and good looking and capable of earning a living," says read. "What chance have I got with all these young fellows wanting to take her away from me?"

Husband Chuckles
Vince Sudik, the husband chuckled. "Ma's getting too popular," he said. "What chance have I got with all these young fellows wanting to take her away from me?"

His wife's answer was lost in a wall from the crib where Elizabeth Ann Sudik, 15-days-old, was lying. The arrival of the granddaughter prevented Mrs. Sudik being at the field to watch the well blow in on March 26.

Although the Mary Sudik well sprayed the countryside with thousands of dollars worth of oil, 196,982 barrels, worth about $246,227, were recovered from pits where it had collected. Of that total, the Sudik's share was $30,877, since their royalty is one-eighth.

The well is expected to produce about 30,000 barrels of oil daily and royalties on that production would be $4,680 a day. Even if plans are carried out to prorate production and limit it to two days in 16, that would mean almost $4,500 a week for the Sudiks.

Through a new type automatic carbon recorder developed by Charles J. Young, son of Owen D. Young, chairman of the board of the General Electric Company, newspapers and business letters were flashed by radio from San Francisco to Schenectady, N. Y., and reproduced in full size. The device can be attached to any radio receiver, and prints on a roll of paper at the rate of half an inch a minute. Dr. E. F. W. Alexanderson, left, of General Electric, is shown here with Young, Jr., examining the machine.

CHAIN FACTS No. 2

YOU HAVE BEEN TOLD

"Chain stores take money out of the community."

HERE ARE THE FACTS

Whether the National Tea Co. or an independent merchant sells groceries to you, the money covering the cost of these groceries goes to the producer whether in California, Illinois or New York.

National Tea Co. as well as independent merchants pays the following bills: rent, light, gas, advertising, repairs, etc. Both pay employees' salaries — all this money remains in the town.

National Tea Co.'s economical distribution of the necessities of life saves the consumer considerable on grocery bills—that money stays in town with the consumer. Even if the net profit which amounts to 2 1/2% leaves the town the advantage is decidedly in favor of the consumer because of the National Tea Co.'s method of distribution.

There are at least four mistakes in the above picture. They may pertain to grammar, history, etiquette, drawing or whatnot. See if you can find them. Then look at the scrambled word below—and unscramble it, by switching the letters around. Grade yourself 20 for each of the mistakes you find, and 30 for the word if you unscramble it. Tomorrow we'll explain the mistake and tell you the word. Then you can see how near a hundred you bat.

SUBMARINE WEDDING PUTS ALTAR TEN FEET BELOW THE SURFACE

"Happy the bride that the sun shines on," says the old adage—but what chance has the sun when the wedding is performed under water? That's what happened at the Los Angeles National Boat Show, when Kate Wilson and J. F. Gutrick were married 10 feet under water, with the Rev. Shepard officiating. Bride, groom and minister wore diving helmets equipped with microphones, as shown in this picture, taken by a submarine cameraman. However, as the inset indicates, they had come to the surface and remove their helmets to get in a satisfactory wedding kiss.

Senator Dill Says It Spelled Doom of The World Court

Washington, April 11—(UP)—Senator Deneen, Rep., of Illinois, was "offered up as a human sacrifice on the altar of the World Court," Senator Dill, Dem., Wash., declared in the Senate Thursday in warning the administration against proposing the Root court formula to the Senate.

Dill's speech, the first on the Illinois primary election, came a most simultaneously with the arrival here of Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick, successful candidate for the Republican Senatorial nomination.

"Senator Deneen was a good Senator as Senators go," said Dill, "and

Murder Backstairs

by ANNE AUSTIN AUTHOR OF "THE AVENTING PARROT" "THE BLACK PIGEON," ETC.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

FROM THE MOMENT DETECTIVE DUNDEE lifts the body of DORIS MATTHEWS, murdered lady's maid, from the lake and lay her in the summerhouse, he knows that the heavy perfume flask, the queer murder weapon, is the chief clue. He knows. SEYMOUR CROSBY, engaged to CLORINDA BERKELEY, has given the flask to MISS BERKELEY; that for some unaccountable reason GIGI BERKELEY, 15, was horrified at the gift and wanted no more of the perfume as possible by sprinkling it over everyone in the drawing room Friday evening.

But not until Mrs. Berkeley, DICK BERKELEY, Clorinda, EUGENE ARNOLD (Doris's fiancé), Seymour Crosby, and family HARVEY JOHNSON, missing valet who had robbed the house, have all been suspected in turn, does Dundee hit upon a startling new angle that Mrs. Berkeley, and not Doris, was the intended murder victim. For Dundee discovers Mrs. Berkeley is a perfume addict.

There is evidence that Crosby hoped for his intended mother-in-law's early death; abundant suspicion against Crosby in connection with the death of his wife, PHYLLIS, 14 months before, when Doris was her trusted maid and friend.

While police, satisfied that Johnson is the murderer, are seeking their man, Dundee asks a chemical analysis of Gigi Berkeley's handkerchief soaked with the murder perfume, to see if it contained poison intended to kill Mrs. Berkeley. If so, Dundee believes Mrs. Berkeley's would-be murder was forced to kill Doris because Dick Berkeley, who has been driving him, is missing from the car and has left a note for him.

Now GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XL

DICK BERKELEY had written in pencil upon the torn back of an old envelope:

"Dundee"—the note began—"Your 'trusty' has broken parole. For God's sake don't hunt me down and drag me back. I'll turn up soon enough, but by then it won't make much difference where I am. Sorry, Dick."

Dundee stared at the penciled scrawl until the words grew enormous.

"Suicide?" he whispered. . . . Fifteen minutes later, in the blue twilight of the late September day, the weary and shaken young detective turned the road-stones toward Hillcrest. Fortunately Dick had left the key in the ignition switch.

He had done all he could, Dundee argued with himself. It would have been foolish to conduct the search personally. The police department had the matter in hand, and could be relied upon to make a thorough job of it. And as Strawn had assured him callously, those who threaten to commit suicide seldom go through with it. Besides, the alarm had been given so quickly that the desperate boy had not more than 15 minutes' start on his small band of uniformed pursuers.

Yes, he had done all he could, but it was hard to meet Gigi's eyes when that ubiquitous child sprang upon the running board of the car as it passed between the open gates of Hillcrest.

"Hello!" she greeted him blithely. "I've been lonesome. The reporters have just left, the lot of 'em. I mean. They kept coming and coming, and Abbie gave 'em tea and let 'em take all the pictures they wanted. She wouldn't let me be interviewed."

He was cleaner than his opponent. "Do you mean," asked Senator Gillett, Rep., Mass., "that Mrs. Medill McCormick who won the Illinois Senatorial nomination was not?"

"I only say that Deneen belongs to a cleaner faction in Chicago," Dill replied.

The World Court was the only issue in the Illinois primary of Tuesday, according to the Washington Senator. The verdict of the Republican voters of that state should write a lesson in politics for other Senators who must face primary battles this spring, he said.

"The Senatorial toll of the World Court has taken William M. Butler of Mass., Irvine L. Lenroot of Wisconsin, McKinley of Illinois, and Pepper of Pennsylvania," he added.

"I hope the administration will take this in an air of warning."

"The old standards of freedom from European entanglements, upon which the American republic was founded are still dominant in the minds of the people of Illinois," said Dill.

"I am against the World Court in any form and I think it is about time that it be dropped as an issue in this country. The people expressed themselves in the election of president Harding in 1920 and now they have spoken again."

No one replied to Dill.

Afraid I'd spill something I shouldn't. . . . Where's Dick? I saw you and him drive off together."

"Dick deserted me," he said, as lightly as possible.

But Gigi was not deceived. She leaned over and stared into his eyes for a moment, then cried reproachfully: "Why didn't you keep an eye on him, for heaven's sake? If you hadn't rushed off without saying goodby I'd have warned you not to let him out of your sight."

"Why?" he asked, startled.

"Because all day he's been bent on getting drunk again," Gigi retorted, as if surprised at his obtuseness.

DUNDEE drew a sharp breath. Stopping the car abruptly, he drew Dick's note of apology from his pocket and passed it to the girl.

"Just as I thought! The pig!" Gigi snorted contemptuously when her quick eyes had taken in the scrawled lines. "I suppose it is worse for him than for the rest of us, because he was in love with Doris, or thought he was, but—Oh, why can't he be a man!"

"You think that's what the note means? That he's merely sneaked off to get drunk?" Dundee asked, as casually as possible.

"Of course! What did you think? . . . O-o-o-h! I see!" and to Dundee's amazement she laughed. "You thought that this was a sort of cryptic confession and advance notice that Dick was going to commit suicide! If you knew Dick as well as I do! No body loves life better than my beloved brother, and nobody has less physical courage. A month from now he'll be crazy about another girl, and—Say, did you see the police onto him?" she broke off to demand with sudden amazing truculence.

"Yes," Dundee admitted curtly. "Oh, dear! He'll probably be brought home dead drunk in the Black Maria, and what chance will we have then to keep Dad from knowing all about it?" she wailed. "A couple of weeks ago Dad put his foot down hard. Told Dick if he bought so much as one drink of bootleg liquor again he'd disinherit him, and he didn't mean maybe. Now—"

"Dick was drunk last night, and so far I've heard nothing about Dick's being kicked out," Dundee reminded her.

"Dad blames himself for that. The liquor was served at his own table, because Abbie insisted on the dinner being 'correct,'" she explained impatiently.

A summons to the library telephone came just then.

"Hello! Dundee? . . . Captain Strawn. . . . We've got that fine young friend of yours. . . . Yeah. Drunk. More than a little drunk. What had I better do with him? Book him on a charge of drunkenness, so we can keep an eye on him?"

DUNDEE chuckled with relief. "Do me a favor, Chief. Have one of the boys escort him to a Turkish bath, boil the booze out of him, and then send him home."

IT WAS not surprise or shock at his discovery which made the young detective sink weakly into his own chair after he had added Dick's four bottles to Mrs. Berkeley's five and turned the key of the desk drawer. It was natural enough that Dick, learning somehow—probably in the same way that Gigi had—of his mother's strange vice, should succumb to the temptation of adopting that vice. Curiosity at first, perhaps. At any rate, Dick Berkeley was now a perfume addict.

It was the startling new vista which that discovery opened to the detective which made him dizzy.

Dick Berkeley had stolen perfume from his mother at least twice. Last night Dick had seen his mother receive a gift of at least five ounces of perfume from Seymour Crosby.

Half drunk at the time, had Dick drowsily made up his mind to appropriate the new supply before his mother could dispose of it herself? If she missed it, his mother would have good reason to suspect who the thief was and to shield him, as she must have shielded him for his two previous thefts—

LEWIS WAITS AND WATCHES GETTING READY FOR DRIVE

"Jay Ham" Sees Nothing Unusual In Battle With A Woman

By WOLF LARSON

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Chicago, April 11.—(UP)—The prospect of doing battle with another of the formidable McCormicks—this time the widow of the man who defeated him 12 years ago—found James Hamilton Lewis today in an attitude of watchful waiting.

Famous "Jay Ham," orator extraordinary and Senate whip of the Democratic party during the Wilson administration, was taking nothing for granted and declined, in advance of a final tabulation of all votes cast in the Illinois primary Tuesday, to concede himself the Democratic nomination.

His victory, well indicated by returns giving him four times as many votes as his four opponents, failed to afford him the huge satisfaction enjoyed by Ruth Hanna McCormick when she swept aside Senator Charles S. Deneen from Republican consideration with an estimated plurality of 200,000 votes.

With 6,483 of the state's 7,117 precincts reporting, Mrs. McCormick had 635,413 votes as compared with 121,121 for Deneen.

Newton Jenkins trailed with 121,121 and two minor candidates had only a scattering. Belated returns today were expected to fix Mrs. Mc-

Cormick's plurality at 200,000 votes or slightly more.

Victory Most Complete

Her victory was the most complete of any candidate for the Republican Senatorial nomination in Illinois history. She led Senator Deneen by an average of 47.5 votes per precinct in Cook county and of 12.85 votes downstate. Six years ago Deneen defeated the late Senator Medill McCormick, her husband, by less than an average of one vote in each of the state's then 6,000 precincts.

Former Senator Lewis confined his remarks today about primary results to declarations that the issue between Mrs. McCormick and Senator Deneen was not the World Court, over which they engaged in much public controversy, but the comparative strength of the Deneen and "Big Bill" Thompson factions of the Republican party in Chicago.

"True issues will arise during the next several months and it will be found, as always in the past, that they vary widely from those presented at the primary," said Lewis.

One of the principal points of difference between Mrs. McCormick and Lewis is expected to be prohibition, which she favors and he declines.

The idea of having a woman for an opponent was treated by the suave Democrat as being of no consequence.

"As I helped this state give to women unlimited suffrage, so did I do everything in my power while I was in the Senate to give them national suffrage," he asserted.

"I see no difference between man and woman in the matter of the enjoyment of suffrage either by vote or in the holding of public office."

Is Good Campaigner

The Lewis campaign during the coming months will bring before political gatherings throughout the state a man distinguished by his neatly trimmed and parted whiskers, reddish, bushy hair, sartorial elegance and remarkable flow of words.

In past years "Jay Ham," whose whiskers were termed pink in other days, has been much in demand at every conceivable sort of assembly in the state. It mattered not whether addresses on plumbing or shirt manufacturing were to be the order, he was invited to attend and deliver a flow of oratory seldom heard in this modern age.

The euphony of his words, a wealth of classical allusion and a nicety of gesture have kept him constantly before the public.

Recently he was called to a Scandinavian-American art exhibit to give a talk. He confessed to the guests that he knew little or nothing of that particular brand of art, but the response evoked by the music of his speech proved it makes no difference what "Jay Ham" talks about, just so he talks.

Since 1892, when he was Democratic nominee for Governor of Washington, he has been a candidate for office time and again, twice for the Vice-Presidency.

He served on several international commissions and was knighted by the Kings of Belgium and Greece.

During the Spanish-American war he served on the staff of General F. D. Grant in Cuba.

SENATORS AGOG OVER COMING OF WOMAN SENATOR

Customs Of the "Sedate" Senate Due For An Upset Soon?

By JOSEPH H. BAIRD

United Press Staff Correspondent

Washington, April 11.—(UP)—The little girl who learned her politics at the feet of her father's Senator friends 30 years ago was returning here today with fair prospects of entering the Senate herself, and her potential colleagues were all a-flurry.

Congresswoman Ruth Hanna McCormick, daughter of the redoubtable Republican boss, Mark Hanna, bore with her an overwhelming mandate from Illinois Republicans to be their candidate for the Senate next fall. The immediate task before her is to defeat Democratic candidate J. Hamilton Lewis.

Mrs. McCormick was confronted by the Norris resolution, adopted by the Senate Elections committee, which calls for an investigation of money spent by Senatorial candidates in both primary and general elections. The Illinois primary, first in the country, will doubtless head the list of those to be investigated.

Some Oppose Woman

Mrs. McCormick's defeated opponent, Senator Deneen, charges she has spent large sums. The resolution was to be reported to the Senate today. When it appears there, it was believed, Senators may air a few of their opinions about the desirability of a woman Senator. One, at least, Senator Dill, Dem., Wash., has let it be known he will speak.

Ruth McCormick's victory was on every tongue today. In the clubby cloak-rooms of the Senate there was much speculation, accompanied alike by laughs and grimaces, of what changes the possible coming of the dynamic but thoroughly feminine reference what "Jay Ham" talks about, just so he talks.

Since 1892, when he was Democratic nominee for Governor of Washington, he has been a candidate for office time and again, twice for the Vice-Presidency.

He served on several international commissions and was knighted by the Kings of Belgium and Greece.

During the Spanish-American war he served on the staff of General F. D. Grant in Cuba.

ABE MARTIN

Nobuddy ever looked forward to gittin' his bank balance. Joe Kite's uncle, who murdered his wife an' three grown daughters last week, pleaded bad environment before Judge Pusey today.

Illinoisan would make in Senatorial customs.

How would the Vice-President address Senator Ruth Hanna McCormick of Illinois? Would she leave her wraps in the regular Republican cloak-room and spend idle moments in its spacious leather chairs, chatting with male colleagues, or would a special cloakroom be fitted up for the Senate's one woman member in already over-crowded quarters? Would she be given the usual quarters, occupying a chair in the rear, listening much, saying little, doing heavy work on an unimportant committee? Or would chivalry prevail over Senate custom?

Few Precedents

Looking across to the House side of the Capitol, with its eight women members; Senators found a few precedents. Mrs. McCormick is recognized by Speaker Longworth as "The Gentlewoman from Illinois." But Senate custom, if followed, would make Mrs. McCormick "the Senator from Illinois" or "the distinguished Senator from Illinois." "Dame Senator" is another possible designation. In the matter of committee appointments in the House, Mrs. Mc-Cormick, with her wide knowledge of politics and public affairs, has fared better than most of her feminine colleagues. She was assigned last fall to the important Naval Affairs committee. It was believed by some that she, if elected, might want to continue her naval work in the Senate.

NAPOLEON'S ABDICATION

On April 11, 1814, Napoleon Bonaparte, emperor of France, abdicated his throne after the allied armies of England, Germany, Prussia and Austria seized Paris.

Although he had previously conquered the important nations of Europe, Napoleon was now sent into retirement as ruler of the little island of Elba in the Mediterranean. He was there only 10 months when he decided to resume his campaigning. Accompanied by 600 soldiers of the Old Guard Napoleon entered Paris, dethroned the king and re-established himself once more upon the throne.

He defeated the Prussians at Flanders, but ultimately suffered an overwhelming defeat at the hands of the English at Waterloo. He was sent as a prisoner to the Island of St. Helena to live in a residence specially prepared for him. It was here that he wrote several able and interesting works relating to his eventful career.
